

Good morning Jenny,

I reviewed your messages from last night and feel confident that I can exceed your website goals, needs and expectations.

My quote for all of the same services[†] offered through my competition is $2,200 with no additional monthly fees. This includes email[‡], hosting, support and updates for the 1st year. The only additional cost(s) would be for stock photography which I typically find through Adobe who offers the lowest pricing while providing the largest selection - $5 per photo vs. $10 through Shutterstock or iStockPhoto.

[†] Exceptions:

- Pre-written content
- Stock videos/photos

[‡] I can provide 10 POP3 email accounts similar to the competition however I would steer you towards an Exchange account through GoDaddy at $4.99/month. If you are unfamiliar with the difference please ask. You also have 100 free forwarding accounts associated with your GoDaddy account by default for having purchased your domain through them. I am happy to explain the differences (pros/cons) of all your options.

I am available to commence work on your project as early as Monday and would anticipate a launch date within 3 weeks, sooner if necessary (completely dependent upon efficiency of communicating information). I work on ½ retainer and balance upon completion.

Please let me know how you would like to proceed. The clear advantage I offer is a unique design from scratch to convey your specific style and tastes and a familiar contact for all your online needs.

Feel free to call, email or text anytime. Hope to hear from you soon.

Cordially,
Robert
